TOURNEDOS OF LAMB, RISSELE POTATOES.

Materials—Six kidney lamb chops, six pieces bacon, eight potatoes, salt, pepper, one cup cream.

Utensils—Knife, broiler, kettle, deep fat, 12 wooden skewers or toothpicks, towel, baking pan, sauce pan.

Directions—Remove the bone and fat from the chops, which should be two inches thick; arrange in circular piece and skewer; wrap a piece of bacon around chop and skewer in place. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on a well-greased broiler and broil over a clear fire about 15 minutes. Remove to a hot platter and garnish with potatoes prepared as follows: Peel and wash potatoes, put in ice water 15 minutes, dry in a towel and fry a delicate brown in deep fat. Drain on brown paper and bake until done.

Scald the cup of cream, or make one cup of rich white sauce, and pour around the chops and potatoes.

MOCK VENISON STEAK.

Buy a good sized leg and loin of lamb. Use chops for one meal, make this recipe from the leg and a stew from the remainder.

Materials—Leg of lamb, glass of currant jelly, one-half cup butter, one scant teaspoon mustard, one-eighth teaspoon salt and pepper, a wineglass of sherry, if possible.

Utensils—Enamelled pan for sauce, tablespoon, cup, large frying pan.

Directions—Make a sauce by softening the jelly in a pan over the fire, add the butter, mustard, salt and pepper. Bring to a scald and keep hot until the steaks are ready. Thick steaks are cut from the best part of the leg. Heat the frying pan hot, drop in a little butter, then put in steaks, sear quickly, turn and sear on the other side. Cook quickly, but do not burn. Pour over the sauce, let boil up, add sherry and put on a hot platter.

CHOCOLATE MARGUERITES.

Materials—Saltines, one cup granulated sugar, one-fourth cup water, white one egg beaten stiff, one square chocolate, walnut meats.

Utensils—Pan, eggbeater, sauce pan, bowl, spoon.

Directions—Brown saltines in oven. Boll sugar and water until it hairs, grate the chocolate. Pour sugar syrup on beaten white of egg, add chocolate. Drop on crackers, place half a walnut meat on each.

INDIVIDUAL RICE OMELETS.

Take one cup of cold boiled rice, pour over it one cup of warm milk, add one tablespoon of melted butter, salt to taste, mix well, then add three well-beaten eggs. Have gem pans hot and well buttered; drop the mixture in each case as you would for muffins, allowing room for the little omelets to rise. Bake in a hot oven. The omelet may be varied by the use of chopped meat or mushrooms instead of rice, but with all but the rice use four eggs. In this way you will have a lighter rice omelet than if you made a large omelet and turned it. These little omelets need no turning.—New Haven Journal-Courier.

SAILS.

Masterlink has said, "Let us sometimes think of the great invisible ship that carries our human destinies into eternity. She has her sails and ballast. Do not stow away the fair white sails in the depths of the hold. Our enthusiasm, intoxicating ideals, flashing convictions, are our sails. Prudence, wisdom, care, hesitation, are our ballast. We need ballast, but ballast is to be found everywhere—the pebbles of the harbor or the sands of the beach—but it is the sails that are rare and precious. The real worthwhileness lies in the sails, they create great works and master mankind."

It behooves us then to set the sails for the exact course we want to take; to know what are the points we want to touch, or we can drift here and there with every passing breeze.

"The soul demands that we shall not live alternately with our opposing tendencies in continual see-saw of passion and disgust," said Stevenson, "but seek some path on which the tendencies shall no longer oppose, but serve each other to a common end. The soul demands unity of purpose, not dismemberment of man."

"Often we want something quite different from what we need, and our needs are quite different from what we want. We may be drifting straight towards the rocks with no help in sight, with only the hope that something may come to prevent demolition."

Then hoist the sails of imagination that holds safely as well as gravity; set them with ideals and enthusiasms and sail for success. Storms may come, contrary winds that will blow you far off your course, the course you mapped out for yourself. But if you have "will" for a rudder you cannot get very far off the right course.

Disaster usually comes as the result of a broken rudder of lost resolve and broken spirits. Do not carry too much ballast. Unfurl the sails, let out some of the reefs of hesitation and indecision, catch every wind that blows enthusiasm and ideals. Realize there is a higher power than we are that will help us to guide our desires and ambitions, and that we will not be drawn into stormy waters if we are true to others and ourselves and if we have common sense.

"One ship drives east, another drives west."

With the self-same wind that

Tis the set of the sails

And not the gales.

Which tells us the way to go."

How to Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly. Cheap and Easily Made.

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a tablespoonful every four or five hours. Your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint of syrup that would cost but a cent of only 34 cents.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly heals the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in gualacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex"—do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Fort Wayne, Ind. BACK—Adv.
